Politics of responsibility

Dr Alison Clarke, University College London

Duration of video clip: 32 seconds

I think the politics of responsibility are very great for an able-bodied team working with those with different abilities. I think that starts at the beginning when planning a research project, and it works through the process of the engagement and then to afterwards, in terms of how you edit or analyse, and in terms of how you disseminate. So I try to think of it through a timeline, so the before, the during, the editing analysis and afterwards.
