

Just Justine

Fastnet Film Festival workshop participant

Duration of video clip: 27 seconds

I like the fact that there was no dialogue in the movie. It took me a little to start becoming entwined with the story of Justine's normal day but I really began to appreciate it as the movie went on. It was just Justine, it just showed her in her daily life and sometimes that is just enough. We don't need any more, it's just Justine.
